Carso Energy is awarded the construction of the Waha-San Elizario gasoduct project by the CFE

Grupo Carso, S.A.B. de C.V. ("GCARSO") informs the investing public that on January 28, 2015, the Federal Electricity Commission of Mexico (CFE) selected the proposal submitted by the consortium formed by its subsidiary Carso Energy, S.A. de C.V., with Energy Transfer Partners, L.P. and Mastec Inc., in which the first one has a controlling interest; as the winning proposal in the bidding process for the construction and operation of the Waha-San Elizario pipeline, in the State of Texas, U.S.A. The Consortium bid the amount of USD $596 Million as net present value (NPV), which represented the lowest NPV offered, determining CFE that it was the best value in relation to price, quality and performance as required by the bases of the tender. The formalization of the transport service contract with the CFE is still pending.
